

HY TURKIN'S

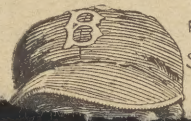

COLUMN

BASEBALL NEWS

spot, the big companies buy up all the land around it. I understand Standard Oil has a 99-year lease on one of his lots at $600 a month!"

Behind the scenes Sunday, when the Homestead Grays hook up with the Newark Eagles in a double-header at Ebbets Field, will be one of the few female executives in baseball. Mrs. Effa Manley, whose husband owns the Eagles, is the Larry MacPhail in petticoats of the semi pros. She attends to the bookings of all games, signs up the players, checks the baggage for road trips, arranges hotel accommodations and handles all the rest of the business details.

Other women magnates (but none as active as Mrs. Manley) are Mrs. Jack Dunn, Baltimore Orioles; Mrs. Louis Comiskey, White Sox, and the three ladies who inherited the Yanks.

FREDDY FITZ-SIMMONS

that he weeks.

"Six looking "Buck y this sho borrowe

Weari meant tl plates or for any you see, on each

"Why "Don't y whether right or

"Naw, plate on out my so often

Rashf

...ing in more ways

①

LIGHT.. as you drink it!

②

LIGHT.. after you drink it!

